Speaker: Monique Debose

Ms. DeBose's performance was an amazing, eye-opening experience. Her story about growing up not particularly being able to fit into a certain group because she is bi-cultural, half-black and half-white, can resonate with all of us, even in the smallest portion., especially with the way she changed characters, it was as if we were truly seeing the different people and their characters portrayed. I also love how she interacted with us an audience, we got to express ourselves in a safe environment. Speaking to your partners as we took part of the activity was a very personal, interactive experience, and we walked out of the room feeling closer to one another that day, knowing that others have the same thoughts and personal struggles as you. I admire Monique very much, especially as a woman role model, and I will never forget
