

Mulatto Math Praise

“Still reeling from and with the power of your authenticity. Thinking about your story. Thinking about my story. Feeling more alive and vulnerable and daring and curious. Thank you again and again.” - Kate G.

“This experience is still rippling through my body. I am so grateful I got to share it with two of my children and close friends . Thank you for sharing your heart, soul, voice into a magical artistic expression . Your journey speaks to me and so many - pleeeeeease keep sharing.” - Steph L.

“I feel so honored to be have witnessed your pure beauty, talent, and vulnerability on stage. Monique, I am still thinking about your one woman play and your story. Thank you so very much. You are an inspiration in so many ways.” - Jane D.

“Every once in a great while this town showcases a performer who pulls tears and laughter from me simultaneously. If I drank, I would have thrown back a few afterwards to feel I could make it to the end of the day, I was that raw from Monique's story. She has the unique talent to make me feel what a Mixed feels like and I am Cracker White from Van Nuys. This kind of drag it from the gut comes from Middle Passage, whip lashes, motherfucking DNA beyond it say nay. See you around campus Sister.” - Roland V.

“I am honored and grateful to have witnessed this Brave Soul while she performed her multi-dimensional one woman show - Mulatto Math: Summing Up The Race Equation in America. We need to relinquish the holds we have on ourselves from telling our truth. We need to be permission givers to each other in our willingness to listen AND our honoring their courage. We cannot address or heal that which stays silent. Brava Monique DeBose! Brava!” - Jennifer H.

“So Powerful and Moving!” - Deborah H.

“Monique DeBose is one of those women who has such fire and power in her, it explodes a room anytime she's in it. She's not afraid to speak truth no matter how uncomfortable it is. This conversation needs her.” - Christina B.

“So proud of you Monique DeBose!! Your show was fantastic!!” - Jolie P.

“What a show, Mo!! What a story! It was raw, intelligent and so well crafted while being so entertaining! Your story is a microcosm of the world's stories of communities trying to mix together and deal with the pain points. It a story and performer ready for a larger stage! APPLAUSE!!!” - Chita O.

“If you are in LA, lucky you. Hottest ticket in town. Monique DeBose is a singular talent with a powerful story to tell.” - Mark S.

“Thank you for letting us be a part of your story. It was an amazing evening.” - Sabrina F.
